

I prefer that you CONTINUE the cell phone ban on passenger aircraft.

With the close proximity of passengers to each other, the addition of cell phones would only increase the noise level and add another bothersome invasion to an already generally uncomfortable travel experience.